LEARNING AT DAVIDSON

Academic Life

Davidson students are intelligent, academically talented, and accustomed to achieving excellent grades. Each year, approximately 85 percent of the entering class has graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school classes. The Davidson curriculum is demanding and designed to challenge these exceptional students to achieve their fullest potential. In addition to classes encouraging all students to stretch and grow, major departments often provide opportunities for individual and collaborative research. A number of programs offer funding to support research and similar projects, especially during study abroad or during summer experiences. Speakers and other visitors on campus help enrich the academic experience for all students and top students commonly will engage in honors programs within their majors.

New students accustomed to excellent grades in high school may experience at Davidson that the adjustment to college, with its academic demands and its reliance on individual responsibility, requires patience and a willingness to reach out for help.

The college provides a broad network of academic support for all students.

◆ Each student is assigned a holistic adviser who advises the student until the end of the sophomore year, when the student declares a major and selects a new faculty adviser. Holistic advising is personal, and each student is encouraged to meet often with their adviser. All students should know the requirements for normal progress toward graduation and work with their advisers to make sure that they are meeting the requirements.

◆ If difficulties arise in a course, the first person the student should consult is the professor. All faculty members have office hours and are available by appointment, or often without appointment, to students. The expectation on campus is that students will have access to faculty members. The student should realize that consulting the professor indicates not weakness, but a desire to overcome problems. Students, advisers, and professors can and do draw upon other sources of assistance as appropriate. Help and support are provided through the Center for Teaching and Learning, Writing Center, Speaking Center, Math and Science Center, Language Resource Center, and individual departmental programs.

◆ The counselors in the Student Counseling Center can assist students in developing stress-management and time-management skills, as well as in addressing more serious personal problems that may be hampering a student’s ability to study effectively.

◆ Students with diagnosed or suspected learning disabilities may receive appropriate assistance through the Academic Access and Disability Resources Office.

Parents with questions or concerns may contact the student’s adviser or the Dean of Students Office.

Registration

Initial course registration (WebTree) at Davidson College is based on a random-number priority system in which all students have the opportunity to register for one class before any student is registered for two. Students make course preference requests in the spring and fall for the following semester. (New students will make their requests online throughout the month of June.) Many students do not receive a full schedule at the outset, which is no reason for panic; they have an opportunity to complete the registration process through add/drop (Banner Self-Service) on campus during specified periods before the beginning of each semester and during the first two weeks of class.

As all students are required to take four credit courses per semester, the college ensures that they receive four courses during the registration process. The college cannot guarantee, however, that a student will be able to enroll in any particular course. Enrollments are guided by course ceilings, stated prerequisites, space requirements, the random-number priority system, and academic determinations. Questions or concerns about a student’s schedule should be directed to the student’s holistic adviser. To see specific requirements for majors and minors, consult the online catalog catalog.davidson.edu.
Graduation Requirements and Standards of Progress

For a summary of all graduation requirements and for other academic regulations, please consult information on the college website. Under the “Academics” tab on the davidson.edu page, select “Registrar” and follow links as appropriate.

Requirements for entrance to the sophomore class or the third semester:

- 7 courses, including the writing requirement
- A cumulative grade point average of 1.60
- A student with a cumulative grade point average below 1.60 at the beginning of the first semester of the sophomore year will be placed on academic probation. A student on academic probation receives special advising services through the Dean of Students Office and the academic adviser.

Requirements for entrance into the fourth semester (second semester of sophomore year):

- A student with a cumulative grade point average of 1.7 or below at the end of the third semester must immediately make an appointment with the Dean of Students Office to clearly assess steps necessary to achieve the average of 1.8 required for entry into the junior class (fifth semester). Advisers will receive notification indicating the requirement of such a meeting.

Requirements for entrance to the junior class or the fifth semester:

- Declaration of a major
- 1.80 cumulative grade point average

For entrance to the senior class or seventh semester:

FERPA
Notice of Student Rights with Respect to Education (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords you certain rights with respect to your education records. These rights include:

1) The right to inspect and review your education records (with certain limited exceptions) within 45 days of the day Davidson College receives your request for access.

You should submit any such request to the Registrar’s Office in writing, identifying the records you wish to inspect. The Registrar’s Office will make arrangements for access and notify you of the time and place where the records may be inspected. Records that are customarily open for student inspection will be accessible without written request.

2) The right to request the amendment of your education records if you believe them to be inaccurate.

You should submit any such request to the Registrar’s Office in writing, clearly identifying the records that you want to have amended and specifying the reasons you believe them to be inaccurate. The Registrar’s Office will notify you of its decision. (Grade appeals are handled differently. Please see the Registrar’s website for more information or contact the Registrar’s Office.)

3) The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in your education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One such exception permits disclosure to “school officials” with “legitimate educational interests.” A “school official” is any person employed by Davidson College in any administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including public safety and student health services staff); any person or company with whom Davidson College has contracted to provide a service to or on behalf of Davidson College (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); any person serving on Davidson’s Board of Trustees; or any student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a “legitimate educational interest” if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill the official’s professional responsibility.

Another such exception permits Davidson College to disclose your “directory information”, consisting of your name; local, home, and email addresses; local, home, and mobile telephone number; major field of study (to include minors and interdisciplinary minors); enrollment status and class; dates of attendance; anticipated degree and degree date; degrees, honors, and awards received; participation in officially recognized activities and sports; most recent educational agency or institution attended; photographs and videos; eating house affiliation; and weight and height of members of athletic teams, to anyone within the Davidson College community and to the general public. Students who wish to have their directory information withheld must notify the Registrar’s Office in writing. (Please note that such a notification will prevent Davidson College from providing your directory information to your friends, prospective employers, and others with whom you may wish us to share such information, so make your decision carefully.) You may give such notification at any time, but it will be effective only prospectively. Students who do not wish to have their address (or other information) published in the student directory must notify the Registrar’s Office annually by no later than seven days after the beginning of classes.

Upon request, Davidson College also discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll or where the student is already enrolled so long as the disclosure is for purposes related to the student’s enrollment or transfer. Information on other such exceptions is available through the Registrar’s Office.

4) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Davidson College to comply with the requirements of FERPA.

   The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-4605.

Visit the Center for Career Development website at davidson.edu/careers for additional information.

Study Abroad Opportunities

Davidson students embrace education abroad. By the time a class graduates, well over half of the students have studied abroad for a year, a semester, or a summer.

Students have the opportunity to choose from several Davidson faculty-led programs and partner provider programs located all over the world, and with proper planning, students will stay on track to graduation. Popular times to study abroad are spring of sophomore year or during the junior year, although students are not limited to these terms. Courses are available in many disciplines and can be taken in the host language or in English.

Costs of Davidson study abroad programs typically are comparable to being on campus, while costs of partner provider programs vary. If a student currently is receiving some form of merit scholarship or need-based financial aid, that aid, minus the money the student earns from working on campus, may be applied to an approved study abroad program during the academic year (fall/spring). The portion the student’s family is expected to pay remains the same, (unless the program fee is more than a term at Davidson). For summer programs, students may apply for a number of internal and external scholarships and grants to subsidize the cost. International students are permitted to use their Davidson financial aid to participate in a Davidson approved study abroad program during the academic year. However, they are not able to use their financial aid to participate in programs in their home country.

Students should visit the Office of Study Abroad to begin the study abroad process. Staff can provide information on program options, application processes, pre-departure preparation, support while abroad, and readjustment to life at Davidson upon return. Students must work with the Office of Study Abroad when participating in any international activities (such as study abroad, research, and internships) and/or receiving any form of funding support from the College. For more information, please visit davidson.edu/studyabroad.

What Students Should Do and Bring

Bringing a personal computer is not a requirement at Davidson, but the majority of students do. Laptops are particularly popular, since Davidson’s wireless network provides total mobility.

Students can also bring peripherals like smartphones, iPods, iPads/tablets, printers, digital cameras, and so on, though T & I support for peripherals is limited. Please do not bring wireless base stations/routers, wireless printers, wireless backup systems, or other similar devices as they can interfere with the campus wireless network.

Before arrival on campus, students should:

- Make sure device operating systems are up-to-date with all recent patches and updates (both Windows and Mac OS).
- Be certain their computers are running current anti-virus software and are free of viruses, trojans, and other malware.

• Check their personal email for information on their new Davidson email account; T&I will send details prior to students’ arrival on campus.

• Download Office 365 by going to http://office365.davidson.edu and using your student’s Davidson email and password. Get started using the Office 365 apps: Word, Excel, Outlook, PowerPoint, etc.

If you have any questions, please connect with us at its@davidson.edu. During the school year, we offer in-person support to help solve problems with personal computers.

Laundry
Self-service, no charge laundry machines are located throughout the residence halls and are accessible 24 hours a day. All washing machines are high-efficiency (HE) models that require use of an HE detergent (conventional detergents create an inordinate amount of suds that trips sensors and disables the machine). Students are encouraged to put their name in all clothing. It is common for students waiting for dyers to remove another student’s clothes when the dry cycle is complete. Each laundry room is equipped with cubbies to hold these clothes (this is also why you should put your name in all clothes!). Staff will remove clothes that have been left in a laundry room periodically in order to keep the spaces clean and navigable. Eventually these clothes are donated to local aid agencies. There will be peak use times when a student may not find an available machine in their building. Laundry rooms are networked, allowing a student to check on the status of a load they have left in the machine or to identify available machines via www.laundryview.com.

Patterson Court Council
Patterson Court Council (PCC) is a community of support that recognizes the value of unique individuals and organizations and promotes their engagement in the larger community through relationship building, collaborative learning, and the process of self-discovery. It is comprised of 14 different organizations: six Interfraternity Council fraternities, two National Pan-Hellenic Council fraternities, two National Pan-Hellenic Council sororities, and four eating houses, which are unique to Davidson. Ten out of the 14 organizations have physical non-residential houses, and these are located on Patterson Court and Nelson Lane; the four NPHC organizations do not have physical houses for their organizations. The 10 organizations (highlighted in red below) with physical houses offer meal plans to all members. These meal plans vary by organization, class year, and dietary restrictions. The majority of meal plans include lunch and dinner on Monday through Friday. These meal plans are part of membership dues and are not a part of the meal plan required by the college. Davidson College is a deferred recruitment campus. In order to be eligible to join a PCC organization, students must have attended Davidson College for at least one semester. Also, in order to join a PCC organization, students must have a 2.5 cumulative GPA, register for recruitment, attend an informational session, and be in good standing as a student. The PCC hosts a variety of events during the fall semester to introduce first-year students to the PCC community through educational programs, meals, service projects, and social events. While most membership recruitment events happen in the spring semester (some organizations conduct recruitment in the fall for at least second semester students as well), the actual membership processes vary based on the type of PCC organization. There is not a recruitment fee, but each organization will have an initiation or first-semester membership fee that will be due at the beginning of the membership process. More information is available on the Patterson Court Council website, davidsonpcc.com.

Male organizations: Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., Kappa Alpha Order, Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc., Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha

Religious Life at Davidson

Davidson encourages students of all traditions to grow spiritually during their college years. Weekly on-campus worship opportunities include Catholic Mass, Episcopal Eucharist, and a student-led Christian praise and worship service. Jewish students gather twice a month for Shabbat dinner. Muslim students coordinate Jumah prayers on Fridays; an ablution rooms are located adjacent to the prayer spaces in two locations on campus.

Davidson’s chaplaincy staff includes the college chaplain, who is an ordained Presbyterian minister, as well as three associate chaplains, from Buddhist, Catholic, and Jewish traditions. Our chaplains are available to people from any religious tradition, or none at all, for pastoral counseling, spiritual direction, and program planning.

Student-led religious organizations and activities flourish at Davidson. Denominational groups include Canterbury Episcopal Fellowship, Catholic Campus Ministry, Davidson Wesley (Methodist), Mormon Student Group, Orthodox Christian Fellowship, Reformed University Fellowship (PCA), and UKirk (PCUSA). Non-denominational Christian groups include Campus Outreach, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, InterVarsity Christian Fellowship, Virtuous Praise Gospel Choir, and Young Life College. Davidson Hillel and the Muslim Student Association provide opportunities for the celebration of holy days and other activities related to their traditions. Davidson Dharma and The Mindfulness Community give students a chance to learn and practice meditation in Buddhist and non-sectarian settings respectively. Better Together Interfaith Fellowship draws together students of many religious traditions for conversation and reflection, and organizes celebrations of holy days in the Hindu and other Asian traditions.

Residence Life

Davidson College is a four-year residential community and all students are expected to live on-campus all four years. On-campus housing serves as student’s home while at Davidson and is designed to be a safe and welcoming residential environment that supports and enhances academic and social development for all residents. Living together creates numerous opportunities for individuals to learn and grow. Through their experiences in the residential community, Davidson students gain the knowledge, awareness, and skills to lead ethical, inclusive lives.

The first-year experience is one of the hallmarks of Davidson College. Student Hall Counselors reside on each hall and serve as guides, social programmers, and ready mentors to their first-year students. Strong and fast friendships form on these halls through intramural teams, educational programs, group dining, social activities, and time spent getting to know each other.

Incoming first-year students are assigned roommates and placed together on hallways through an intentional process which relies on several sources of information, including the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator. The primary goal of this process is to pair roommates and build communities where students will meet others who both share common interests and bring new perspectives. The care involved in pairing first-year students yields positive results. We rarely have students who want to move during their first year. The process is not foolproof, of course, and roommate conflicts are addressed by hall counselors, and, if necessary, the Residence Life Office (RLO) staff. In all cases, students are encouraged to work through such difficulties, and room changes are not permitted until October 1.

After the first year, a student’s housing options are determined by a seniority-based housing lottery process. Class year determines how students will be assigned: senior lottery numbers are allocated first, followed by junior and then sophomore numbers. A small number of students may be given permission to live off campus; the actual number is determined by the number of students in excess of the number served by on-campus facilities. In all cases, students must request and be granted permission to live off campus.

On upper-class halls, resident advisers work to foster a community of mutual respect and cooperation. These men and women are chosen from among upper-class students and co-create inclusive communities, provide guidance, build community, and facilitate social programs for their residents.

The philosophy of Davidson College’s residential living is one of “freedom with responsibility” which is an... extension of the honor system. Policies and procedures set high expectations for students. The enforcement of these expectations helps students learn community responsibility, increases safety, and creates a more pleasant living environment. The detailed expectations, including consequences for violating the expectations, can be found in the Residence Life Office Policies and Procedures for Residents and found on the RLO website.

The college’s trained professional staff works in conjunction with the student staff to provide an environment for students that supports and advances academic performance, provides cocurricular learning activities, and encourages individual development.

Residence Hall Rooms

Residence halls offer a wide range of living options. First-year students live in double rooms in communities with other first-year students. Upperclass students have a range of additional living options, including single rooms, four-person suites, and on-campus apartment buildings. All residence halls have cable television access, air-conditioning, and wireless internet access. Student rooms include a bed, mattress, desk, desk chair, dresser, and closet or wardrobe. Many students bring or rent a refrigerator. Landline phones are available in student rooms upon request. The Residence Life Office (RLO) staff works very hard to provide for the safety and security of person and property, but thefts still happen. All residence halls are on 24-hour limited access and students are strongly encouraged to lock their room doors whenever they are out of the room or asleep. It is important to note that the college cannot take responsibility for lost, stolen, or damaged property. Frequently, existing homeowner’s policies carried by parents cover a student’s personal property while at school. Renter’s insurance (e.g., HO-4 type policy) is generally available through the companies that offer car or home insurance. Students and parents are urged to investigate their coverage thoroughly.

Before packing or buying appliances, furnishings, or other objects, students should (1) coordinate with their roommates and (2) consult the Residence Life Office Policies and Procedures for Residents on the RLO website for guidance. Of note, waterbeds, refrigerators over six cubic feet, space heaters, electric blankets, open-coil cooking units, and candles are not allowed. New students receive information in July that addresses permissible and restricted items more specifically. The college provides lofts in most residence halls. Individually owned/built lofts are prohibited. Safety rails for lofted beds are available upon request from RLO.

Student Cars on Campus

Cars permitted on campus are useful for trips into Charlotte and environs, for visits home, or trips to the Lake Campus. Since students usually do things in groups, there is no difficulty in getting a ride with a friend. The college occasionally arranges transportation for major events off campus. Campus Police will also provide safety escorts on campus to students; call 704-609-0344 for assistance. All students desiring to park on campus are required to register their vehicles with the Davidson College Department of Public Safety and Campus Police. Students must register these vehicles within 48 hours of the student’s arrival on campus. Students must register online at the Davidson College Public Safety site at davidson.edu/offices/public-safety/vehicle-and-bicycle-registration. Payment will be required during the online registration process. Students receive information about campus parking regulations, including information about restricted areas. Students who register online will receive the parking regulations along with the parking sticker in their campus mailbox. The college may tow vehicles for extensive fines or unregistered vehicles if the student has not communicated extenuating circumstances. If a student intends to park on campus, he/she must register their vehicle whether or not the student lives on campus.

Bicycles are useful and popular at Davidson. Bicycle racks are available outside most residence halls. The college campus, like any other community, has experienced theft. No storage for bikes is available, except in student rooms. Students will be required to register their bicycles with Campus Police. Students may also register their bike using the link above.

Student Counseling Center

The counseling staff includes professionally licensed doctoral- and masters-level psychologists, counselors, and social workers. Staff members have been employed by the college not only for their training and experience, but for their special interest in the development of young adults. The relationship between student and counselor is professional, and the information the student shares will be considered confidential, except in the following instances: the student’s safety or that of others is threatened, or the student gives expressed written permission via a signed release.

There is no additional charge for services provided to students by SCC staff; however, due to the number of students who seek services, the staff of the SCC subscribe to a brief therapy model. If significantly more sessions are anticipated or needed, SCC clinical staff will consult with the student and family about options for obtaining appropriate services privately. In addition to counseling services, arrangements have been made for a private psychiatrist to come to the SCC regularly to see those student clients needing psychotropic medications. The cost for visiting with the psychiatrist is the student’s responsibility.

The SCC is open between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Appointments are generally made by calling 704-894-2451 or through stopping by and making an appointment in person. If a student is experiencing a psychological emergency outside of business hours (e.g., after 5 p.m., over the weekend, during short semester breaks), a counselor can be reached by calling 704-894-2451.

Student Health Center

The Davidson College Student Health Center (SHC) provides routine health care with the services of registered nurses on site and part-time physicians who are contracted through nearby Davidson Family Medicine. Nurses are on site from 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, while the physicians see patients by appointment, each weekday, between the hours of 1:30 p.m. and 5 p.m. and two mornings a week. Same-day appointments are available for urgent problems. Nurses run an allergy clinic for students requiring allergy shots. A nurse is on call by pager at 704-337-7047 after hours and weekends, with physician backup.

Health Education

There are two other resources available to students that are housed within the SHCC. A Health Educator meets with students individually or in small groups to discuss a wide range of topics including alcohol and other drugs, sex, gender/sexual identity, sexual violence and general questions regarding relationships. The Health Educator also trains and supervises a team of students known as Health Advisers who, under the supervision of the Health Educator, provide various programs to students/student groups to reinforce positive messaging around sexual and social health.

The second resource includes Davidson’s Registered Dietitians who work with our students to develop healthy nutrition plans that fit with their schedules and meet their individual needs. Guidance is offered to students in the areas of general wellness, weight goals, food allergies, eating on the go, sports nutrition, diabetes, cholesterol, hypertension, disordered eating, meal planning and more. Our Dietitians meet with students in both individual and group settings free of charge.

Students who wish to make an appointment with any member of the Student Health and Counseling Center staff, may do so by either calling 704-894-2300 (health concerns) or 704-894-2451 (psychological services) or stopping by and making an appointment in person. Additional information can be found at https://www.davidson.edu/student-life/health-and-counseling.

Vail Commons is the primary dining facility on campus and is an all-you-care-to-eat program. It provides a very broad menu, including hot entrees, vegetarian and vegan options, fresh made-to-order pizza and deli sandwiches, a large salad bar, wonderful Commons-baked desserts, an extensive beverage service, and frequent special meals highlighting cuisine from all around the world. The staff is prepared to work with individual students with medical allergies. The dietitian on the Student Health Center staff works closely with Dining Services staff to help students with their options.

First-year students are all required to be on the Full Meal Plan and can choose between 16 or 21 meals per week. In addition to taking meals at Vail Commons, students may choose to utilize a meal at the Wildcat Den during lunch periods. At the Davis Café, they may use meal plan for late night dining option. After the first year, upper class students will be required to purchase a minimum of a 75-Block Plan each semester (this equates to an average Meal plan transfers, known as equivalencies, may be used at the Café during the late-night timeframe. Dining Dollars, Declining Balance, credit/debit cards, and cash are all accepted at the Davis Café. Students staying on campus during Fall, Thanksgiving or Easter breaks may utilize their meal plan in an equivalency manner at the Café during lunch and dinner times, excluding Thanksgiving Day and Easter Sunday.

FINANCES AT DAVIDSON

The CatCard—The College ID

When new students arrive on campus, they receive their photo ID—the CatCard. The CatCard is the official college ID, and provides access to campus buildings, serves as a meal card, and holds students’ Dining Dollars and/or Declining Balance accounts.

The CatCard allows students access to the exterior entrances to all residence halls, the college libraries, many academic buildings, Baker Sports Complex, and to other facilities throughout campus (fitness centers, the Lake Campus, computer labs, Student Health, laundromats). Lost or stolen CatCards should be reported to the CatCard office or Campus Police immediately so access can be deactivated and funds are protected.

Meal Plans

All Davidson students participate in a college meal plan. College meal plans are structured as either weekly plans or block plans. Weekly plans allow students a prescribed number of meals each week and then reset each Sunday morning. Block plans give students a prescribed number of meals for the semester. Students enroll in meal plans each semester using a sign up portal on the Dining Services webpage.

First year students choose between the 21- and 16-meal plans. The 16-meal plan is 16 meals per week at Vail Commons and 400 Dining Dollars for the semester; the 21-meal plan is 21 meals at Vail Commons with 100 Dining Dollars for the semester.

All first year students will be automatically assigned the 16-meal plan. Students who prefer a 21-meal plan may enroll in that plan through the portal on the Dining Services web page.

Meal swipes may be used at Vail Commons, the Wildcat Den (lunch during the week), and the Davis Café during prescribed limited hours.

Any and all Dining Dollars may be used at any college-operated dining location, and Coke and snack machines. Dining Dollars may not be used at non-dining locations (College Store, Union Desk, etc.). Dining Dollars left over at the end of the fall semester will carry over to the spring semester. Any unused Dining Dollars are removed from the student’s account at the end of the academic year. Finally, because Dining Dollars expire, the CatCard system automatically pulls money from a Dining Dollars account first, ensuring that these funds are used before any personal funds from a declining balance account.

After the first year, all students are required to purchase no less than the smallest meal plan option. Meal plans in 2018–19 vary from 75 meals per semester to 21 meals per week. Most meal plans also include Dining Dollars.

Declining Balance Accounts
Students or their family members may open an additional debit card account, called Declining Balance (DB), with the college at any point. This account is accessed using the same CatCard. Money deposited in a DB account can be used anywhere on campus—dining locations, the College Store, other campus retail locations, and with our off-campus partners.

DB balances remain on students’ CatCards as long as they remain at Davidson. The college cannot disburse cash to students from this account, but students may close the account and retrieve any remaining balance at the end of a school year or if they are leaving the college for any reason. DB deposits may be made with cash or check at the CatCard Services office (basement Belk) or by mail (Box 7160, Davidson, NC 28035). CatCard Services charges a $10 fee for the first deposit made each academic year.

Many families ask if their student “needs” a declining balance account, particularly if he or she has a credit card or bank debit card. With a DB account you can help your son or daughter avoid carrying cash on campus and you will know there are only a limited number of places where they can spend it. Many students do rely on credit/debit cards instead of opening a DB account, as those cards are accepted in most locations on campus.

Insurance
Davidson has long been concerned that all students have access to medical care as needed. The college provides limited health care through the Student Health Center and training room. However, students sometimes need specialized care through local clinics, hospitals, and specialists. To ensure that this care is available, all students attending Davidson College are required to carry health and accident insurance.

International students are required to carry the policy offered by the college, unless the student provides proof of U.S. coverage. The cost of the Davidson College health and accident insurance policy for the 2018–19 school year is $2,295. Students who are U.S. citizens and are covered by comparable insurance may be exempt from the student insurance program only by completing the online waiver and submitting it to Davidson College Business Services by August 1, 2018. After this deadline, student insurance may not be waived. Waiver information will be included in the fall semester tuition billing scheduled to be emailed in early July. All students will also be charged $284 for tuition-refund insurance. For more information about the tuition-refund insurance or to opt out of the coverage, please refer to: www.tuitionprotection.com/davidson.

Tuition and Spending Money
Each student, and parent if parent access has been established, receives an emailed bill for tuition and fees in mid-July for fall semester and early November for spring semester. Payment in full is required by the due date on the bill, unless the school’s monthly payment plan (Nelnet) is used. Payment plan information will be provided with each semester’s billing. For 2018–19, the comprehensive fees are $65,819. First-year students should add $175 to this amount for their New Student Orientation fee. Upper-class students who pay board to fraternities or eating houses may need to adjust the board line item. Upper-class students living in a single, suite, or apartment will need to adjust the room line item.

The comprehensive fee does not include miscellaneous expenses or books. Transportation to and from school should be considered in computing the entire cost. Books may cost as much as $900–$1,000 per year. The College Store accepts cash, checks, CatCards, and major credit cards. Students should not buy used books until they are sure what their professors will require, as course text requirements may change.

Recreation requires spending money. Students receive free tickets to most college and athletic events, but there are costs for food, transportation, and out-of-town games, etc. The student activity fee covers many social and cultural events on campus, but some others are extra. Most students, even those on the 16-meals-per-week plan, need additional money for snacks and extra meals. The CatCard is an excellent way to provide your student with spending flexibility on campus. The card cannot be used at an eating house or fraternity, or to pay a student’s balance on his or her account. Any funds not used by the end of the year can be refunded, but withdrawals mid-semester are not permitted. Deposits can be made to the CatCard via cash, check, or credit card.

GETTING TO DAVIDSON

The nearest airport is Charlotte Douglas International Airport, about 30 minutes away. By car, Davidson is easily accessible from I-77 and I-85. The college is approximately 20 miles north of Charlotte, 20 miles south of Statesville, and 15 miles west of Concord. There is a bus stop in Davidson. Charlotte Area Transit System (CATS) services Davidson by bus. For a bus schedule, call 704-336-7433 or visit charlottenc.gov/cats. Limited rail service is available into Charlotte via Amtrak. To ship items to campus that you will be unable to travel with, you can use UPS after August 1. Address all items to your student, Davidson College Warehouse, 209 Ridge Rd., Davidson, NC 28035. Parcels sent early by UPS will be held at the College Warehouse until the student arrives.

Campus Visits

After Orientation, students usually need time to find their way into campus life. Family Weekend is scheduled to meet families’ needs to see how things are going and students’ needs to touch base with home. Family Weekend for 2018–19 will be October 26–28. The schedule includes programs for parents, the fall theatre production, sports events, and more. The weekend also provides an occasion to visit informally with your student and new friends.

In the spring, many families find Spring Awards Convocation a rewarding time to visit the campus again. The seniors march in caps and gowns, the college presents awards and honorary degrees, and there are activities in which parents and students can share.

What To Do Between Visits

Borrowing from the good advice in Letting Go by Karen Levin Coburn and Madge Lawrence Treeger, parents and families can be most helpful by expressing confidence in their student’s maturity. Students can manage most problems and inquiries themselves with the help of the college staff. The confidence and coping skills they develop from confronting problems successfully on their own serve them well when they graduate and begin their careers. When they exercise poor judgment, the college setting and staff members provide a safety net to help them correct or learn from their mistakes.

Even the most mature and independent students want the support and attention of their family. They may not remember to call home and report their successes, but they will almost certainly call home when they have problems or feel blue. Usually they do not expect parents to do anything (and may be offended if they try). Parents and families who offer sympathy, support, and carefully worded suggestions as to how the student might approach the problem will be appreciated.

Mail, care packages of goodies or inexpensive gifts, notes, or funny cards help students feel they are still connected to home and family. Students want to be informed about what goes on at home and may feel resentful if they are not told of family crises. Telephone calls just to chat are appreciated—if they do not come too early in the morning.

Students are individuals and respond in their own ways to events during their first year. However, parents may anticipate several stress points when many first-year students need extra support from their parents.
