Shelter in Place – This is the most common recommendation during emergencies. More often than not, if the emergency is not in your building, you will be asked to remain in place. Two instances when you will not shelter in place is in the event of fire or explosion.