

Attention all students:

Something tragic has happened, and someone diabolical is to blame; the officers of the Bernard Society need your help to solve the second greatest mystery to ever ravage the Davidson College campus.

—Introducing the—

1st Annual Bernard Society Math Murder Mystery!

There has been a series of murders, and we need intelligent puzzle-solving sleuths like yourselves to help unravel the clues. Don't worry, real analysis and vector calculus are not pre-requisites for the job—just a keen intellect, a love of puzzles, and a good attitude are required. Join us this coming week in math hall (3rd floor of Chambers) to kick off what will hopefully become a new Davidson tradition. The traditional light snacks will be provided, and at the end of the night the true culprit will be unmasked! Bring yourself, your brain, 3 friends, and a smile!

Thursday, February 9, 2006 — 7pm, Math Hall