Why Hire Davidson Students?

These are not your average college graduates.
Find out why hundreds of companies and organizations choose Davidson College for recruiting interns and recent graduates.

A Challenge-Tested Work Ethic
Your workday ends when a project is done well, not when the clock reads 5:00 p.m. Our students are used to that. We are considered by many to be among the most rigorous institutions in the country. Davidson students have been taught by demanding faculty who believe the students should earn their grades and succeed while balancing multiple assignments concurrently.

Knowledge and skills your company needs
Our students develop their analytical, writing and communication skills and must demonstrate a thorough attention to detail. They will be ready to produce high-quality work right away, and on the job they often become the de facto editors for written documents coming from their team.

Partners in Education
“What do we want to know that nobody knows yet?” Davidson faculty members provide our students with a strong educational foundation and then turn them loose to push the intellectual boundaries of their fields. The result is graduates with extensive practice in critical analysis who can work creatively and independently through problems in class, and then in their careers.

DAVIDSON BY THE NUMBERS

- Nearly 2,000 diverse and talented undergraduate students.
- Davidson includes students from 46 states and 39 countries, and students of color make up 20% of the student body. More than 70% of our students work, travel or study abroad. We are producing graduates who are equipped for a multi-cultural and international world.
- The majority of Davidson students will complete one to three professional internships during their time as students.
- 25% of our students play Division I varsity athletics. Other students develop leadership skills through more than 150 clubs and organizations and Greek life.
- Top destinations for recent employed Davidson graduates: Charlotte, New York, NY, Washington, DC, Atlanta; 75% left North Carolina and 12.5% moved to another country.
“With a Davidson graduate, one can be pretty sure of four things: the candidate is intellectually curious, knows how to work hard, will conform to high ethical standards and has a depth of experience beyond most peers.”

Rob Hutchinson, Davidson ’77
Vice President, Goldman, Sachs and Company

Davidson Honor Code

Can you imagine a college where students take unproctored exams at a time and place of their choosing? We can. Davidson students hold themselves and their peers accountable in all academic matters on campus, and those ethical standards shape their lives outside of the classroom and beyond graduation.

Trust them to live up to your high expectations.
